Law, university in conflict on P. E. fees charged

By CARROLL WILSON

The possibility that West Texas State University is charging 400 students an illegally high equipment use fee for four physical education courses this semester emerged this week following student complaints.

A News investigation revealed that state law apparently prohibits an increase in fees charged by the university for paddleball and bowling for the spring term. The fees were also charged during the fall term of 1975, even though the 1975-76 official school catalogue lists course fees for paddleball and bowling at a lower rate than one included in the fall and spring schedule of classes.

University Legal Counsel Karen Johnson had no comment on the News findings but said she would check on the legality of the fees.

The News found the following:

Article 55.16 of the Texas Education Code, as amended by the 1975 Texas legislature, provides that "Each board shall be authorized to fix and collect rentals, rates, charges, and/or fees from students and others for occupancy, services, use and/or availability of all or any of its property, buildings, structures, activities, operations, or other facilities, in such amounts and in such manner as may be determined by the board; provided, however, that all student use fees shall be fixed and collected in proportion to the number of semester credit hours for which a student registers, and shall not exceed $6 per semester hour, except that those schools charging more than $6 per semester hour as of May 1, 1975, shall not exceed the amount being charged as of that date, and except that the legislature may specifically authorize individual boards to levy fees in excess of the $6 limit set therein."

The paddleball and bowling courses for which fees are now charged are each one hour courses described in the university catalogue, and if fees are charged in accordance with the law should not carry a fee of more than $6 each unless the charge was in excess of $6 as of May 1, 1975.

WTSU Financial Vice President Herma Miller and Academic Vice President Ray Maltzahn cited Article 55.16 as the law which allows the university to charge students equipment use fees each semester. Laboratory fees may be charged in accordance with another state law.

The university's 1974-75 course catalogue, in a listing of fees, lists the fee for Health and Physical Education 160, a paddleball course, at $2 per semester. The catalogue is the one in effect as of May 1, 1975.

The same catalogue lists the fees for Health and PE 151, bowling, and Health and PE 170, advanced bowling, as $10 for each one-hour course.

The summer 1975 schedule of classes, dated February 1975, lists Health and PE 151 with a fee of $15, an increase of $5 over the spring 1975 term.

The fall semester schedule of classes lists paddleball 160 for a fee of $10, advanced paddleball 178 for a fee of $10 and bowling 151 and bowling 170 for a fee of $25 each.

The 1975-76 university catalogue's listing of fees shows bowling 151 with a fee of $15, bowling 170 with a fee of $15 and all other paddleball fees at $2 each.

The spring term schedule of classes, in use this January, shows a fee for paddleball 160 of $10 and a fee for paddleball 178 of $10. The same schedule of fees shows a fee of $25 for bowling 151 and for

Canyon City Manager Glen Metcalf took to the props Monday night to show city commissioners his justification in asking them to okay higher water and sewer rates for city residents. A decision was delayed until next Monday.

City decision delayed

Canyon water rates may more than double

Minimum rates for city water, sewer and sanitation will at least double and could go higher under proposals for utility increases urged Monday by Canyon's city manager.

Glen Metcalf presented the rate proposals along with a five-year program for capital improvements for the three services to city commissioners, who delayed a decision until Jan. 27.

Yet even with the doubling of the present water rate, the city is likely to fall a half-million dollars short of the estimated $1.8 million that will be needed to continue service at the present level and meet the needs imposed by the city's growth, Metcalf said.

Briefly, Metcalf asked for a raise in the sewer charge from $1.50 to $3 a month. He presented two plans for water rates and two for sanitation rates which would set minimums at either $4.75 or $6 for water and $3.10 or $4.39 for trash collection.

After questioning Metcalf, the commissioners took home a thick folder of data and delayed a decision until Jan. 27 at a special meeting. The preliminary city budget, for next fiscal year, which must be given to the commissioners by Feb. 1, is being held up until a decision is made.

Metcalf presented both a proposal for a flat water rate and an escalating water rate. Either plan, he said, would produce about the same amount of revenue.

Under the flat rate plan, the present minimum rate would be upped from $3 for the first 3,000 gallons to $6 for the first 3,000 gallons. Each 1,000 gallons thereafter would cost 60 cents.

However, the plan Metcalf favors would increase the cost of water as usage increases.

By this method, the minimum rate would rise from the present $3 to $4.75 for the first 3,000 gallons. Users would pay 60 cents for each thousand gallons from 3,000 to 6,000. The next 6,000 gallons, up to 15,000 would cost 70 cents per thousand and all water over the 15,000 limit would cost 80 cents per thousand. The escalating rate would promote conservation, Metcalf said, and would decrease demand on the system.

"The normal household can hold it to 15,000," Metcalf said. "We're getting to the point where lawns are luxuries. If you want a

Alternative school plans would require $5 million

Two school expansion plans which would not require construction of a new high school in the north part of the Canyon School District would cost about $1 million less than a $6 million proposal CUSD voters turned down in December, school board members were told Tuesday.

Supt. Jerry Jacobs presented two alternative proposals as expected Tuesday night and both, preliminary cost figures indicate, would cost less than the original $6 million proposal which called for construction of a new elementary school and a new high school in the north part of the district.

School board members took no action on the proposals and Jacobs declined to recommend one proposal over any other.

They are to meet to discuss the plans in special session at 7:30 p.m. Monday and again at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The original proposal defeated by voters in December for new schools called for a high school to house about 700 students and an elementary school for about 450 students. Cost of a new high school was projected at $4.6 million while cost of a new elementary school was projected at $1.4 million. Remodeling costs for Canyon High were projected at $254,000.

An alternative presented by Jacobs would provide an addition for Canyon High to house another 700 students and to handle ninth through 12th grades. The addition projected by Jacobs would include two gymnasiums, two vocational classrooms, two vocational shops, a field house, four to six tennis courts, administrative offices and classroom facilities.

Preliminary costs for the plan, which would include construction of a new elementary school in the Gene Howe area, would be about $5 million, with the additions and remodeling of CHS costing about $3.58 million.

Another alternative, which also would include construction of a new elementary school in the north part of the district, would call for an addition to CHS to house between 200 and 300 students and construction of a new middle school for 7th and 8th graders in the Gene Howe area.

CHS campus construction under the proposal would include several classrooms, a gym and dressing rooms, tennis courts, a vocational shop and classroom and some remodeling. Under this proposal CHS would be for 10th through 12th graders while the new middle school in the north part of the district would be for about 400 7th and 8th graders from Canyon area and all district 9th graders.

Preliminary cost estimates for the new middle school indicate construction would be $1.94 million. The elementary school cost would be $1.4 million and remodeling CHS would cost $1.67, according to Jacobs' figures. Total project cost would be $4.786 million.

Jacobs, in presenting the proposals, said "there are good points and bad points about each of the three proposals," but he stressed each plan would provide quality education for Canyon district children.

A representative of the Gene Howe area, Dr. Nolan Clark, apparently disagreed, however.

Clark presented bus cost figures which he said indicated it would be cheaper in the long run to build schools close to the students.

Clark, favoring the initial $6 million proposal, said the district would save $1.8 million in 10 years in bussing costs if the initial issue were accepted.

In response to audience questions, Jacobs said enrollment projection figures for the new facilities did not include any lands he felt the school board might be considering for de-annexation to Amarillo district.

He said the district might save as much as $800,000 in interest payments if the bond issue is for

Dr. Gerald, Mrs. Crain cited by district

Dentist, homemaker get honors

An Amarillo dentist who farms in his spare time and a Canyon area housewife who enjoys tracing her ancestors were named Monday the 1975 Randall County Conservation Farmer and Homemaker.

Board members of the Palo Duro Soil and Water Conservation District selected Dr. Tom Gerald of Amarillo and Mrs. Cristler Crain of Canyon for the honors.

The names of Gerald and Mrs. Crain will be submitted to the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce for consideration for statewide honors in the annual program.

As Conservation Farmer for the year, Gerald was cited by the board for his long-time cooperation with the soil and water conservation district in conservation programs.

Soil Conservation Service District Conservationist Bill Casteel said Gerald began cooperating with the district in 1962 on his three farm units in north Randall County. Gerald farms a total of 1320 acres, including 800 acres of native grassland and about 500 acres of cropland.

Casteel said Gerald has participated in and completed a plan under the Great Plains Conservation Program and has seeded acreage in grassland, constructed fences, used good grazing management, constructed a farm pond and installed underground irrigation pipe on his units. In addition, Gerald has installed a conservation cropping system.

"He is aware we depend for the production of our food and fiber on the top six inches of soil and he's concerned with conserving this for present and future generations," Casteel said. "He's been an active participant in the program."

Gerald, a native of Gatesville, came to Canyon with his family while he was still attending public schools and he graduated from Canyon High in 1932.

His father, Tom Sr., was a farmer for years north of Canyon and Gerald worked his way through West Texas State College by mowing grass and feeding Charlie the Buffalo. Following graduation from West Texas, Gerald worked for six years as an oil field roughneck and as a

Burning city dump said in violation

Smoke and smell from a fire at the city dump is no health hazard but it does constitute a violation of air quality control laws.

A fire began Sunday in the public dumping area and has smoldered at the dump since then. It will probably have to burn a few more days before it subsides enough for the city to move in equipment and bury the flames, said city manager Glen Metcalf.

In the meantime the smoke and smell that has blown over Canyon and the surrounding areas should not be harmful to anyone, including asthmatics or those with lung diseases, said county health officer, Dr. Dudley Moore.

"We don't get the kind of concentration for that," Dr. Moore said. "A little breeze just blows the smoke away."

Dr. Moore said he lived in a house beside the ravine that serves as a dump for 15 years and the only effect that periodic fires there in the dump ever had was to drive flies and rats out of the dump and up to his barn.

"I've never noticed any health hazard," he said.

However, the fire does violate a ban on burning, according to Herb Williams, environmental health specialist with the Texas Air Quality Control Board.

The city received a notice of violation after a similar fire at the dump last January. Metcalf said the fire now apparently started last Sunday.

"Some county residents still burn their trash and haul barrels out to the dump. All we can assume is that Saturday someone hauled something in there with fire in it enough to get the open dump burning," he said. (See DUMP, Page 7)

Wieck fears bitterness if bond issue defeated

The vice president of the Canyon School Board said Wednesday he fears another school bond issue defeat could stir such bitterness in the Canyon school district that the only ultimate solution might be splitting the district in two.

Ed Wieck, who said he sees himself in a role as negotiator in an effort to work out a compromise which will embitter as few citizens as possible, said splitting the district might be "best if we can't get along."

Wieck said he presented a plan for a bond issue for construction of a new elementary school in the north part of the district several weeks ago in an effort to offer a compromise which might be acceptable to a time.

"I don't want to cause more bitter feelings," he said. "I'm trying to get things together."

But, Wieck said apparently his fellow school board members feel his plan would be a last resort. Board members considered two plans Tuesday night, both calling for a new elementary school, and with one calling for a new middle school and the other an expansion of Canyon High.

Wieck's plan calls for immediate expansion of Canyon High. (See WIECK, Page 7)

Future drop seen for farm water priority

City residents in the High Plains may gain additional water during the next 50 years at the expense of agriculture, a water expert told a workshop of local government officials and employees meeting for two days at West Texas State University this week.

Because the pumping level is dropping and the cost of producing water is rising, Wayne Wyatt, assistant director of the groundwater data and protection division of the Texas Water Development Board, sees a decline in irrigation and other agricultural uses.

"What I see is the water table will drop to a certain point and irrigators will quit using water because it will cost too much. This will leave plenty of water around for municipal use," he said. "But if you don't have your agriculture people around, you won't have a lot of use for all that water."

Wyatt said that recent studies show there were some 340,082,000 acre feet of available water in 1974 in the Ogallala formation that underlies a 45-county area.

If the entire 340 million acre feet could be brought to the surface, it would form a lake about 13 feet deep over the 45-county area, he explained.

However, by 2020, the available water is projected to drop to 126,989,000 acre-feet.

Randall County, which lies at a shallow edge of the aquifer is expected to be short of water then, with the pumping level receding below 300 feet and only 1,571,000 acre feet of water available, Wyatt said.

There were 5,216,000 acre feet available here in 1974.

"Randall County is a water short area that is going to be shorter by 2020," Wyatt said.

Projections show that the formation will yield only about 50 feet of saturated depth by then.

Canyon also taps water from a deeper Santa Rosa formation, he said. There are problems of soda and chloride in obtaining water from the Santa Rosa, according to Wyatt.

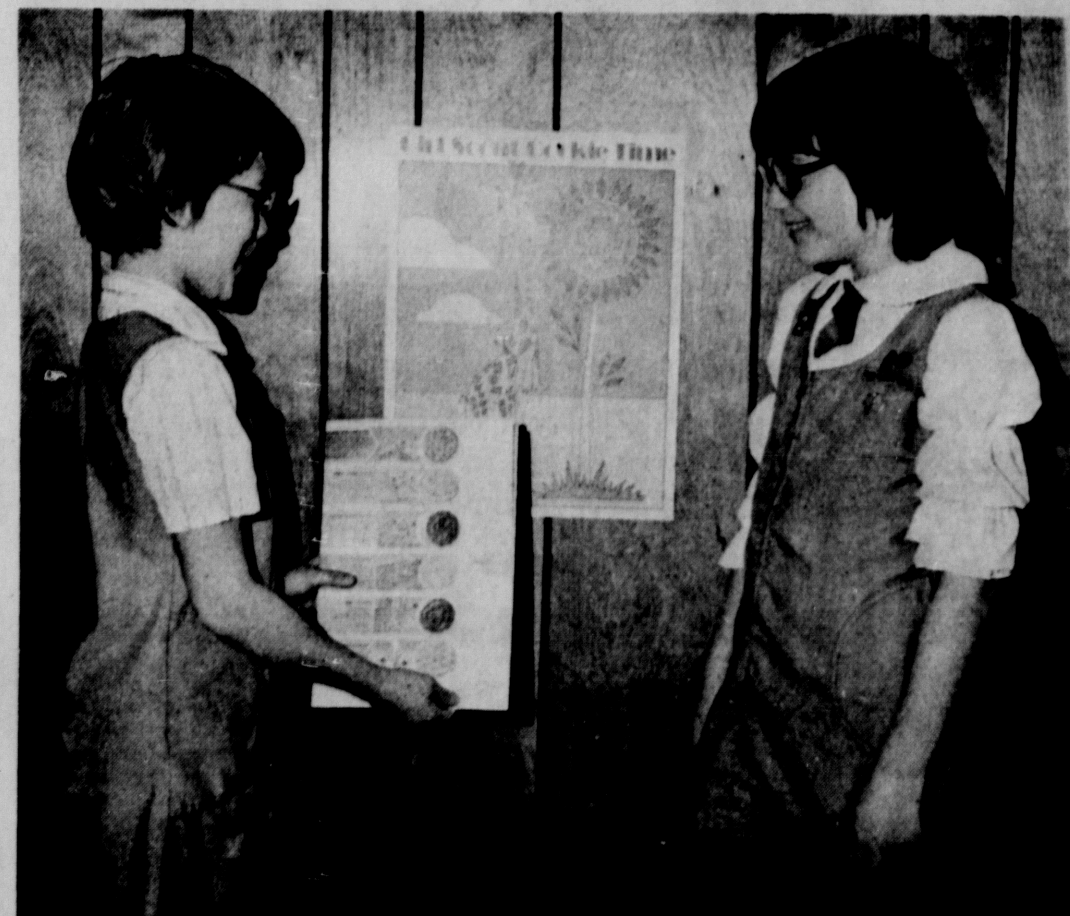

In a Tuesday afternoon session, Dr. J.E. Halligan, chairman of the Tech department of chemical engineering, said it would be difficult to justify economically the use of municipal solid waste, which now goes into a landfill for burying, to generate or provide power.

Halligan indicated with figures on energy potential that the minimum size city which would have enough solid waste for an economical energy program would be a city of about 100,000 population.

Because of the fluctuation in market price for solid waste fuel and for retrieved metals and glass, he said, even larger cities might find it economically not feasible to invest in the machinery and equipment which would be needed to generate power from solid waste.

It is good that some things are beyond our human control; we have "messed up" everything that is.

Canyon Girl Scouts begin their annual cookie sales campaign in the city Friday afternoon. Dana Musser, left, and Denise Lehman are among the 100 city scouts who will be conducting the campaign to raise funds for future scouting efforts in the community.

Birth defect research collection for weekend

The Mothers March against birth defects takes place on Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 24 and 25, to benefit March of Dimes programs of research, medical service, and professional and public health education. All are directed at overcoming the nation's most severe child health problem.

Mrs. Nancy Boston, Chairman of the Canyon Mothers March drive, says the Mothers March this year will stress the theme, "Happy Birth Day, America."

"We are opening 1976 with a declaration of revolutionary war against infant disease and infant mortality," she reports. "Physical and mental birth defects strike more than 200,000 infants every year; low birthweight, strongly associated with increased risk of brain damage and death, affects another 200,000 babies. Our infant death rate is higher than that of 17 other countries.

"Only through more research into the causes of high-risk pregnancies, and improved perinatal care of mothers and infants can these figures come down. With Canyon's help, the March of Dimes can make progress in this area."

If you are interested in participating in the Mothers March, Mrs. Boston asks that you call 655-4169.

"Dolly" asks for items

Do you have any old feed sacks, burlap bags, nail kegs or large hat forms?

Or how about dress forms, feathers, strings of Christmas tree lights or pot pie tins?

All these items, and anything else that would suggest a feed store or hat shop of the 1890s, are needed for the CHS production Feb. 19-21 of "Hello Dolly."

The Christmas tree lights and pot pie tins will be used to build footlights for the stage ramp, explained director Miss Neva Chowning. Feathers such as pheasant or ostrich will be used in the hat shop scenes.

All items will be carefully identified and protected, she said, and will be returned in good condition.

To lend something for the play, contact Miss Chowning, Mrs. Charlotte Brantley or Doug McCause at the high school.

Candy suckers will be sold Friday at Canyon High School with proceeds to benefit the March of Dimes effort. Future Homemakers of America chapter members at the high school will be selling the suckers on Friday and will be collecting funds throughout the city on Saturday afternoon. FHA members, Brenda Taylor, left, and Carol Green will be among those conducting both fund efforts for the Mother's March here.

Water, sewer, trash service cost more in most other Panhandle communities Canyon rates for water, sewer and sanitation are low compared to other Panhandle cities, according to a study prepared by City Manager Glen Metcalf.

The present rate of $3 minimum rate for city utilities is $6, with $3 for the first 3,000 gallons of water and $1.50 each for sewer and trash collection.

Rates under study by the city commissioners now would raise the minimum bill to amounts from $10.85 to $13.39, depending on the combinations of plans chosen.

In Abilene, the minimum bill is $7.50. This includes $3 for the first 3,000 gallons of water;

$1.50 for sewer and $3 for trash collection.

Amarillo residents pay a minimum of $9.30. Included is a $4.05 charge for the first 4,000 gallons of water; $1.75 for sewer and $3.50 for trash collection.

The minimum bill in Canadian is $10.50 with water charged at $3 for the first 1,000; 60 cents per thousand for the next 2,000 gallons and every 1,000 gallons after that charged at 45 cents. The sewer charge is $4 and sanitation is $3.50.

The Children's minimum is $13.75. The water minimum rate is $1.75 for the first 10,000 gallons. Trash collection is $2.25 and the sewer charge is $1.50

In Clarendon, the minimum rate is $14.50. Water is charged at $11 for the first 16,000 and each 1,000 gallons after that costs 50 cents. The sewer charge is $2 and trash collection is $1.50.

Floydada residents pay a $12.75 minimum with a $7 charge for the first 2,000 gallons of water. The next 8,000 gallons cost $1 for each thousand and the next 10,000 gallons cost 80 cents per thousand. Sewer service costs a minimum of $2.50 with a 50-cent charge for each additional bathroom. Trash collection is $3.25.

Muleshoe has an escalating rate for water, with a $4 minimum for the first 2,000 gallons. The cost of the next 18,000 gallons is 40 cents per thousand and the cost for the next 20,000 gallons is 50 cents per thousand. The top cost is 70 cents per thousand for usage over 60,000 gallons. Sewer and sanitation costs are $3 each in Muleshoe.

The weekly supper meeting for Canyon Senior Citizens will be conducted this evening at Canyon Community Center beginning at 6:30 p.m.

In early February, the nursing department of West Texas State University will be meeting with the Senior Citizens on a weekly basis at 6 p.m. for the purpose of checking blood pressures among the members.

the Canyon physician served a term on the board as city commissioner.

"I feel that there are major problems coming before the city commission in the next two years," Bryan said. "Hopefully, my past experience in serving on the city commission can help to solve these problems."

Bryan serves now as president of the Region II of the Texas Municipal League, which includes the Panhandle, and has served on a number of TML committees. He is a member of the steering committee that helped organize the American Association of Small Cities and previously served on the intergovernmental affairs advisory committee to the governor's office.

Airman Wilhelm ends training

Airman Weldon E. Wilhelm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry H. Wilhelm of Rt. 2, Happy, has graduated at Sheppard AFB, Tex., from the US Air Force aircraft mechanic course conducted by the Air Training Command.

The airman, who learned to maintain and service turbo-prop aircraft, is being assigned to Dyess AFB, Tex., for duty with a unit of the Strategic Air Command.

Airman Wilhelm graduated from high school in 1975 in Nazareth.

An assortment of used clothing, toiletries, and various gift items donated by residents of Happy were presented this week to Randall County Judge Woody Pond by Kay Venhaus, secretary of the Happy Jayceettes. The donated items will be picked up later this week by representatives of Girlstown USA along with an assortment of other donations which have been presented to Judge Pond for that purpose in past months.

Ceramics workshops

A lecture-demonstration of "throwing" on Tuesday will open the five days of workshops led by internationally-known ceramist Paul Soldner, artist-in-residence at West Texas State University.

The session, open to the public, will be from 8 to 10 p.m. in the J.O. Parker Building, 1st Avenue and 17th Street in Canyon.

Other public lectures and demonstrations by Soldner will be Jan. 28th from 8 to 10 p.m. in the Amarillo Art Center, and a raku firing demonstration Jan. 29 from 8 to 10 p.m. in the Parker Building in Canyon.

Workshops will be from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. at the Parker Building Jan. 30 and 31. Enrollment is limited and participants will be charged $35. A fee of $5 will be charged for observers.

County board says no to raise for members

Despite a warning from Dee Griffin and John Fulgenzi that low salaries for county commissioners would eventually lead to mental and moral impoverishment of leadership, commissioners declined Monday to vote themselves a pay raise.

They voted raises which will bring the county monthly payroll to $64,142 for county employees, meeting out as little as 1.1 per cent and as much as 22.2 per cent per employee.

The raises, according to County Auditor Betty Hodges, fell well below the total funds budgeted for raises for the year. She said commissioners had allocated $73,600 per month for payroll.

Tax office employees received the highest percentage pay raises granted Monday by commissioners during a four-hour session.

County elected office-holders received an 8 per cent pay hike except for County Judge Woody Pond, who received a 6 per cent hike over his own objections. Sheriff Cliff Longest, who was given an 8.3 per cent hike, and Justices of the Peace W.A. Wilson and W.W. Hancock, who each received a 9.6 per cent raise.

County Clerk LeRoy Hutton, Dist. Clerk LaQuitta Polvadore, and Tax Assessor Mrs. Audrey Bruse received a straight 8 per cent hike, from $1000 per month to $1080 per month.

Road Supt. Joe West received a 6 per cent pay raise.

Commissioners' salaries will remain at $620 per month. They did not give themselves a raise in 1975.

Griffin, who just completed his first year on the court, contended, in arguing for higher commissioner pay, that overseeing the county's property, roads and offices would hypothetically require the full-time efforts of one commissioner; that administering the business of the county would require the full-time efforts of another commissioner; and that watching proposed legislation and interacting with other governmental entities would require the time of another full-time commissioner.

"If we want to grow each commissioner will have to devote more time than last year," he said. "If we want a commissioner to do his job, we've got to pay him what he's worth or pick one who will shirk it or who's already retired or wealthy."

Griffin argued that depressed commissioner salaries might eventually lead to one-man control of the commissioners court.

"If a man comes here and tries to do the job right, you can't penalize him," he said. "If the job continues to increase during the next three years, I won't be a commissioner."

Fulgenzi agreed with Griffin. Griffin proposed commissioners grant themselves a 10 per cent pay hike for 1976 and for the next two years.

But, Fulgenzi contended a 6 per cent hike would be more appropriate.

Commissioner Jim Fletcher also agreed the salaries now paid commissioners do not cover the amount of time the job takes from regular commissioner jobs. But, he said he ran for commissioner to serve the community and did not expect the pay to fully compensate him.

Commissioner Paul Lindsey agreed the salary wouldn't cover the time taken to do the job and said he had warned potential candidates for his position (Lindsey has said he will not run for reelection this year) that they should not expect to be fully compensated for the time the job takes.

A motion by Fulgenzi that commissioners hike their salaries by 6 per cent could not raise a second and died.

A later motion that no hike be given was okayed.

In other business Monday, commissioners approved the advertisement for bids for purchase of a new pick-up truck for the road maintenance department.

A new freezer for the sheriff's office kitchen was also purchased from Sears for $324. Sears was low bidder for the appliance.

Gene Howe

Patriotic program gets a repeat

By KAROLYN FARMER
THE OLD "TOO much of a good thing" theory can apply to a variety of things. Many of us still haven't recovered from eating too much over the recent holidays. And we all know what oversleeping did for Rip Van Winkle.

But one thing I don't think any of us can get too much of is being reminded of our heritage during this great Bicentennial year.

Last fall the 6th graders of Gene Howe prepared and presented a program honoring America. The program, under the direction of Margie Phillips and J.W. King, was given to the students and teachers of the school on Veteran's Day.

It was so good that Mr. Lawless has asked the 6th graders for a repeat performance. Everyone is invited to attend the PTA meeting on Monday, Feb. 2nd at 7:00, when the 6th grade students will present their special Bicentennial program.

THERE ARE LOTS of other special events coming up at Gene Howe in the next few weeks. The C.I.S.D. Community Education Spring Program will begin at the school on Tuesday, Feb. 5th and will continue through April.

There are 13 different classes being offered this spring. This is a great opportunity for everyone in the community to learn a new skill or become better informed about a specific subject.

The Community Education Program is definitely not limited to parents of Gene Howe students — it's for everyone in our area. So if you haven't received a brochure about the new classes, please call the Community Education Office, 655-2168, for details.

The spring classes being offered are: Basic Drawing; Men's Wear Knit Sewing; Lingerie Sewing; Cheerleading; Animal Care; First Aid for Students; Income Tax Seminar; Parent Survival; American Novels; Defensive Driving; Macrame; Easter Crafts; and Money Management.

THE KINDERGARTEN STUDENTS at Gene Howe, along with their teachers, Anita Harp, Pam Layman, and several mothers, enjoyed an exciting trip to the airport last Wednesday.

The children went aboard a TWA airplane where they talked to the pilot and the stewardesses. As they left the plane, each child received a gift.

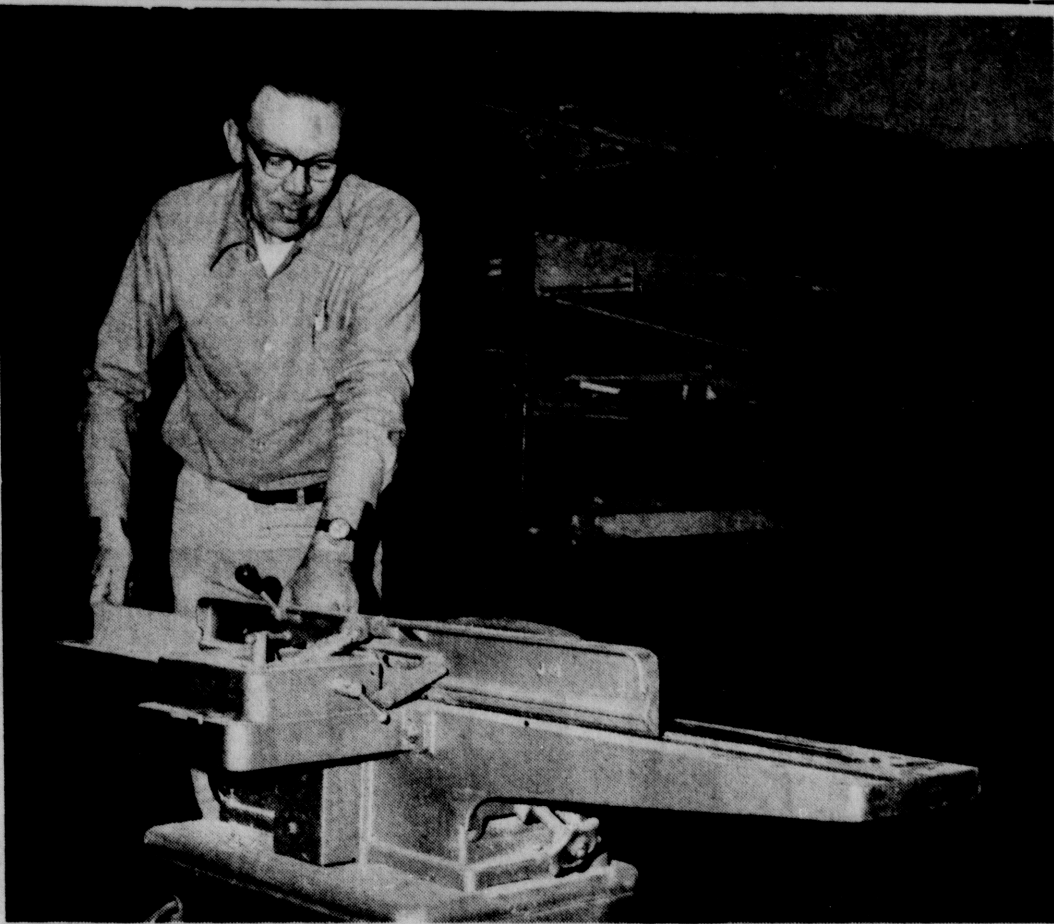

Continental Airlines also gave the children calendars as mementoes of their trip.

PAM LAYMAN MAY have a hard time avoiding all "sore throat germs" in her kindergarten classes, but she's certainly trying — and for a good reason.

Pam had her tonsils removed during the Christmas holidays and is still "suffering" from the traumatic experience.

MRS. BILLY RAY (Angelina) Messer is home after an eight day stay in the hospital. Angelina had back surgery and will be recuperating for at least another two weeks.

The Messers are fairly new to the Gene Howe area and live at Southgate Mobile Home Park. Angelina teaches Special SHEILA HICKS WAS honored at a belated birthday party last Friday. Kim Brazile, Kelli Campbell, DeeAnn Staton, Andrea SoRelle, John Hicks, Sheila and several of her friends on the Amarillo Aquatic Club swim team all enjoyed an evening of ice skating at the Civic Center.

Sheila was 13 on Jan. 9th, but she and her family were busy that weekend at a swimming meet in Midland.

STEVE NORROD WAS also out on the ice last Friday (almost literally). Mrs. Jerry Norrod and Steve joined Lynn and her Girl Scout troop for the skating party.

It was Steve's first experience at ice skating and he really has something to show for it. A bad fall resulted in an equally bad cut to his chin, but luckily a nurse was present at the rink and repaired the damages — to Steve, that is.

RUDY HAGGARD IS now home recovering from an operation on his right leg. Rudy was in St. Anthony's Hospital all of last week and will be wearing a full leg cast for several more weeks.

The Haggards are new residents in our area and live on Coronado Street. Their daughter, Susan, is a student at WT.

THE 5TH GRADE boys basketball team recently competed in the Holiday Tournament at the Activities Center and has played in one practice game so far. Their season will officially begin this next week.

Larry Brooks is the coach and Bob Morgan is assistant coach. Playing on the team are Jason Bass, John Brooks, Wayne Bruffett, Mike Dustman, Jim Gruhlkey, Dwayne Hollis, John Hunt, Michael Longhofer, Doug Moore, Mike Morgan, Sam Pender, Michael Rhea and Jimmy Scott.

GLORIA MCGILL'S 4TH grade class was treated to a puppet show last Monday. Putting on the show were Allison Kitten, Jayme Melton, Lori Rawls and Connie Schollenbarger, who are in Rosemary Ramaeker's class.

All of the fourth graders at Gene Howe are now involved in a study of early America and the puppet show's theme was early American education and medicines.

Mark Rebeaud and Treva Shott showed me the model of Jamestown and the log cabin they had made.

Following the puppet show, Mrs. McGill's class played a spelling game. The children spelled words, substituting different actions for the vowels. For example, instead of saying "a," they would whistle.

One of the bulletin boards in the room featured pictures of star constellations and the moon. Mrs. McGill told me that they hope to visit the Discovery Center in Amarillo soon as part of their science unit studies.

Jerry Norrod, the father of Lynette, recently visited the class and showed them slides of the stars and planets. Mr. Norrod has his own backyard observatory and is an avid amateur "star gazer."

The most recent birthday celebrant in Gloria McGill's class is Gary Glenn, who was 10 years old on Jan. 17th. Gary told me that he had a family birthday party in honor of the occasion.

GLORIA TAYLOR IS especially proud of her fifth grade class. She told me this week that her students are now the 5th grade "Math Champs," and a big sign in the school hall also announces their achievement.

LARRY AND DOLORES Patrum, Tommy, Penny and Mickey Joe are new residents of Lake Tanglewood. The Patrums formerly lived in Grove, Okla., which is on Grand Lake.

Larry Patrum works as a truck driver for Yellow Freight. Tommy is a sophomore at CHS; Penny is in the 4th grade at Gene Howe; and Mickey is an active four-year-old who stays home with his mother.

Dolores and Larry also have a daughter and son who live in Joplin, Mo. They have another son who will be going to WT this spring.

The favorite hobbies of the Patrum family are boating and fishing.

DAVIDA EMANUEL, who teaches in the Early Childhood Program at Gene Howe, was honored by her fellow teachers with a bridal shower last Thursday after school.

David will be married to Robert Alexander on Jan. 31st in the Chapel of the First Baptist Church in Amarillo.

MRS. BILL (EDNA) Gervasi is home after an operation and three-day stay in High Plains Baptist Hospital last week.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE of the Amarillo-Canyon Christian Women's Club met on Monday for their first business meeting of the new year.

Among those serving on the board this year are Carol Harrell, Karen Crossland, Marilyn Johnson, Yvonda Stokes and Karolyn Farmer.

Musical comedy in a new dimension will come to a one-night only dinner theatre performance at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the West Texas State University East Dining Hall.

It is "The Diary of Adam and Eve" to be presented by the Alpha-Omega Players of Texas, with music and lyrics by Jerry Bock and Sheldon Harnick, the composers of "Fiddler on the Roof."

Taken from Mark Twain's "Diary of Adam and Eve" is a razor-sharp spoof proving that the war between men and women goes all the way back to the Garden of Eden.

Twain's acrid perception of human foibles will delight the audience as they see Eve's vanity flower, once she is transformed from Adam's rib, with the comment, "Whatever I am, I'm certainly a beautiful one."

The play traces the lives of the first man and the first woman through the happy days in Eden, the sadness in leaving, and the new life they begin outside the Garden. Like any other couple, Adam and Eve experience the joys and pains of life and the sudden loneliness of death.

Jim Fuqua and Shelley Russell will play this couple in Paradise and Ken Zinck the snake whose seductiveness brings about their expulsion (All Adam's fault, Eve insists) and they have seven tuneful songs between them with which to elaborate the mockery.

The Alpha-Omega Players is a young company, established in the summer of 1967. In the first five seasons, they staged some 2,700 performances for large and small groups in churches, schools, colleges and military bases, covering more than 725,000 miles in their travels to 45 states and Canada.

Tickets for the production, sponsored by the WTSU Student

OUR FAMILY RECEIVED exciting news last week. My little brother, Roger Howe and his wife Helen are proud parents of a new baby girl, Leslie Ann, who was born on Friday, Jan. 16th. They also have a son, Steven, who is three years old today, Jan. 22.

The event was even more special to us because Friday was also Kyle's and my anniversary.

THE CUB SCOUTS of Pack 130 have been enjoying free bowling lessons offered by the Western Bowl in Amarillo. Each Den has already, or will be participating in the series of four lessons.

LUTHER LAWLESS TELLS me that the spelling books have been distributed to children in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades at Gene Howe.

The Gene Howe Spelling Bee will not be held during the February PTA Meeting this year and the date of the contest will be announced soon.

YOU OWE IT to yourself, your children and your community to be as informed as possible on the issues involved in the upcoming school bond election.

If you have questions about any part of the bond issue, please call me. If I can't answer them, I'll do my best to direct you to someone who can.

In spite of attempts by some people to cause a division between the different areas of our school district, I still believe that through communication and understanding we can all unite for the sake of our children.

Surely if we put the welfare of our children first, then all the other issues being brought up will fall into proper perspective.

How can we really celebrate our nation's Bicentennial if we can't even exhibit trust and achieve understanding among ourselves as neighbors?

Activities Council, will be $5 for the general public and $4 for WTSU students. Dinner will begin at 7:30 p.m. and the play at 8:30 p.m. Tickets and information can be obtained from the WTSU Activities Center of office, telephone 656-2296.

DECA members sell radio ads

Canyon high school students will be writing, selling and producing radio ads during the next few weeks to raise money for the annual employer-employee banquet hosted in the spring by the Distributive Education Clubs of America.

DECA members will present the advertisements for local merchants over KCAN on Feb. 11, 12 and 13. The radio station is donating air time for the fund-raising project.

Charter book for 'Friends' memberships

Local artist, Ann Palmer, is completing the cover and title page for a Charter Members book for the Canyon City Library's "Friends" organization.

The charter list of members will include all who have paid memberships previous to the library's moving into the new facility at the City Hall Complex.

Those obtaining memberships and renewals may contact Mrs. Crews (Zoe) Henry or the following members of the committee including Conway Kuykendall, Mrs. Larry Holman, Miss Nora Killiam, Mrs. Ishmael Hill and Mrs. Lon Fanning.

Memberships and renewals are $1 for individuals, $5 for organizations and $100 for sustaining lifetime memberships.

Varied classes, starting dates and lengths offered this spring by community education

A varied line-up of classes, starting dates and class lengths will be offered this spring through community education.

Starting dates will be staggered, with the first class, a domino game, beginning Feb. 2 and the last class, animal care, beginning April 20. Class time will vary this term also, with one class, lingerie sewing, lasting only three weeks and the longest, survey of the New Testament, running for ten weeks.

A junior high speech course signed up Jan. 15.

Most of the 40 courses will last from four to eight weeks each. Mrs. Virginia Cotton, community education supervisor, said the staggered term is designated to increase the opportunity for participation.

Pre-registration is beginning now or students may register at the first class period.

The following classes will begin the first week in February:

Feb. 2 at Rex Reeves: "88," a domino game 7-9 p.m.

Feb. 3 at Gene Howe: First Aid for Students 7-9 p.m.; Income tax seminar 7-9 p.m.; Parental survival (child development), 7-9 p.m.

At Rex Reeves: Adult basic education, 7-9 p.m.

Classes scheduled to begin later this spring include golf, wet in wet oil painting, western dancing, adult gym sports, knitting, cheerleading, beginning roping, slimmastics, arts and crafts, money management, Easter Crafts, and men's knit wear sewing.

City Commission

Hearing set on cable tv

City commissioners Monday night called a public hearing for the next meeting on Feb. 2 to consider the application of Cable Vision of Canyon, Inc.

A hearing, not required by the city charter, was not held when the franchise was granted several months ago. However, federal regulations require a public hearing before granting franchises and the city was notified last week by the FCC that a hearing should be called before the cable television application can go any further.

Several other objections, primarily in the wording of the franchise application, were noted by the FCC but city manager Glen Metcalf told commissioners that there were no serious deficiencies.

In the only other business to come before the board before they began an extensive examination of city utility rates, the commissioners approved a motion by Jim Christopher to use a HUD community development grant to pave as many blocks as possible along 6th Avenue.

A special meeting was called SPRY luncheon meeting today

The SPRY Club will have a luncheon meeting today, Jan. 22, at 12 o'clock noon in the fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church.

Rev. Terry White, pastor of the First Christian Church, will conduct the devotional period.

Jan. 27 to consider raising city water, sewer and sanitation rates.

4-H scene: Adult leaders urgently needed for 4-H program

By PAUL SAMMONS
Assistant County Agent
I was born in Paris, Tex., and raised with a background in Agriculture. I moved to Waxahachie, Tex., in 1970. I am a 1972 graduate of Waxahachie High School and a 1975 graduate of Texas Tech University with a degree in Animal Business. I have been your Assistant County Agricultural Extension Agent since the first of the year. I feel privileged and proud to be a part of Randall County. Please feel free to call on me at anytime if I can be of any assistance to you. Our county livestock show was a huge success this year. We had some 160 4-H animals in the show. Each 4-H member and pre-4-H'er did a very good job at the show. I congratulate each of you for a job well done!! I especially congratulate Shelli Beerwinkle for her grand champion market lamb, Gary Henders for his reserve champion market lamb, Chris Wilkinson for his grand champion steer. Congratulations!! I would also like to thank all of the ladies that brought food and worked in the concession stand. Thanks!!

4-Hers wanting to exhibit beef cattle at the Tri-State Fair and State Fair of Texas need to start thinking about these projects. We need to get these steers on feed sometime in February or March. All 4-Hers interested in showing a steer or heifer at these fall shows need to come by my office when you get a chance. 4-Hers wanting to show pigs and lambs have awhile yet until we get these livestock projects going, June or July. My office is Room 102 of the county court house.

I encourage young people not in a 4-H Club to please come by my office. I will be glad to sign you up!! Any young person 9 years old is eligible to be a 4-H member until they are 19. We do not discriminate against anyone in any way.
4-H is a lot of fun, you learn to do many things. I have a choice of some 30 projects that you could do. Please feel free to come by and see me — I'll be glad to see you.

I need some more adult leaders to help assist me in working with the 4-H members. It doesn't matter whether or not you have had any experience. I will help and train you to work with these youth programs. Please call or come by!! I NEED YOUR HELP!!
I plan to meet with the UMBARGER 4-H Club and the High Plains Childrens Home soon. I will be in contact with the adult leaders of these clubs soon. It will take time and hard work to increase the 4-H activity in Randall County. I need adult leaders to assist me because we have plenty of potential for an excellent 4-H program. Please get involved!!

The upcoming activities in 4-H work are method demonstrations and judging teams. 4-Hers, we need to start writing and practicing on these demonstrations. Your adult leaders and myself will help you with these projects. 4-H members interested in judging livestock need to call or come by my office soon. I will train the livestock teams myself. I will train a junior and senior team. I need your age to put you on one of the teams.

The Amarillo Stock Show and Rodeo will be Jan. 22-28. I urge each 4-H member and adult leader that has shown or is interested in showing livestock to attend this show. Each of us can learn something by watching and asking questions to the exhibitors. Look for me — I will be up there each day.

The steers will show at 8 a.m., Jan. 23; lambs 9 a.m., Jan. 23; pigs 8 a.m., Jan. 24. Please attend if you can.
See you next week!!

Volleyball tournament changed to open night

By REBA RAEF
MISS ARLENE KOCH, bride-elect of Richard Paschel, was feted with a miscellaneous shower last Sunday afternoon in the Catechical building in Umbarger. The bride-elect's chosen colors of green and candlewhite were carried out in the decorations.

Refreshments were served to fifty-nine guests by the hostesses, Mesdames Elroy Artho, Bill Thompson, Larry Paetzold, Larry Wagner, A.H. Lindemann, Bill Gerber, Bernard Hartman and the Misses Sandra Artho and Juanita Hartman.

THE MIXED VOLLEYBALL tournament for local teams, which was scheduled for Saturday evening, Jan. 31st, has been changed to an "open games" night.

All of the local teams will participate. No admission will be charged and everyone is invited to come and watch the games.

Light refreshments will be available and there will be tables set up for cards and dominoes. So, ya'll come for an evening of fun.

THE KNIGHTS OF Columbus Council No. 2808 of Umbarger will have their regular monthly charity supper next Tuesday evening, Jan. 27th. This month the supper will be prepared and served by Kenneth Hartman, chairman, Vernon and Stanley Handing and Gene Haschke.

After the supper card games — 42 and 88 — will be played in the Columbus Club Hall. Everyone is invited to share the supper and games night.

MRS. EMMA BRANDT is now at the LaCasa Nursing Home in Canyon, and I'm sure she would enjoy cards and visits from her friends. We wish her a speedy recovery.

diate negotiations on property in the north part of the district which might be de-annexed and annexed into the Amarillo district, a bond issue for construction of an elementary school and a bond issue later for construction of a new high school.

"The whole point of my plan was to try to get the two forces together on mutual ground and so we wouldn't be wasting so much time," he said.

But, he noted that it appears from recent board meetings that spokesmen for residents in the north part of the district are not willing to give up yet on a $6 million bond issue proposal, for construction of a new elementary school and a new high school. The proposal was defeated at the polls on Dec. 9.

"I hate to see another bond issue fail," Wieck said. "It will just further divide and slow us up some more. But it looks like the pressure is on to have another issue similar to the first one."

Wieck said even though pressure from the north part of the district is mounting to construct two schools in that area, he feels another similar bond issue might have an even slimmer chance to pass.

"I'm not trying to be smart," he said. "I'm just trying to move us forward. I feel like we'll be scraping some more and I don't know. I think it's sad because I think we definitely have some bitter people no matter which way it turns out. Schools need everybody's support."

ticket. City Attorney Elton Cox said he had not researched the law on whether Christopher can continue to serve as a city commissioner while a candidate for the county commission.

Christopher said he has been involved in joint discussions with Randall County commissioners for several years on various projects and believes he has a basic understanding of county government.

He sees on the horizon an increased need for Potter and Randall counties and the cities of Amarillo and Canyon to work together for cost-sharing and joint purchasing.

Christopher chaired a committee of the four governmental entities' elected officials several years ago and recently became involved in a similar effort, nice lawn, you're going to have to be willing to pay for it."

Metcalf told commissioners that water bills for 80 percent of Canyon residents would rise by $3.50 or less each month. About 80 percent of residents use 15,000 gallons based on 15,000 gallons or less usage each month.

Using the escalating rate, Metcalf estimated that bills would climb from $6.60 for someone who used 9,000 gallons a month to $8.30.

The bill would jump $3.50 for 15,000 use, he said, going from $9 now to $12.50 under the proposed rate.

But the largest increase would be felt by the 20 percent of users who use over 15,000 gallons a month.

Metcalf said that a homeowner using 50,000 gallons would have a $19.20 jump from the present $21.25 to $40.45.

"Some houses with large, nice lawns use this much," he told commissioners. The average household, living in a 2,000 square foot home, uses about 9,000 gallons a month, he estimated.

Metcalf said that even with the rate increases he is asking the city will still be short about $500,000 of the revenue needed for the capital improvements he is requesting over the next five years. Improvements include three new wells, more overhead storage, increased pumping capacity and a 14-inch water main around the city.

The shortage would be made up in grants, and by possible participation by developers in the cost of extending the 14-inch water main around the city, Metcalf said. He also pointed out that chemist for an oil firm in Borger. He then attended the University of Texas Dental School in Houston for four years and served in the U.S. Navy for two years before moving to Amarillo in 1947 to set up practice.

Gerald said he's proud of the accomplishments he's made on his farms through cooperation with the Palo Duro district.

"I've always felt that the main objective of a conservation program is to bring about stability of natural resources through conservation practices to prevent erosion," he said. "Because of the fact that we in the United States produce more food and fiber than any nation in the world, we need to protect and preserve this."

"When I was in college I had a teacher named Mrs. McMurry and I've always remembered something she said: 'if it weren't for this thin crust of fertile soil, there wouldn't be any civilization.' There's about six inches of it and we need to protect it."

Gerald is a member of the Canyon Masonic Lodge, the WTSU Phoenix Club and the WTSU Opportunity Plan, Inc. He is also a member of an Amarillo Rotary Club and the Amarillo First Methodist Church as well as a number of dental organizations.

He is also a member of the Farm Bureau.

He and his wife, Helen, have five children — Tom, an Amarillo veterinarian; Bob, a resident in ophthalmology in New Orleans; Nancy, a graduate student in Washington, D.C.; Barbara, a graduate student at Texas Tech; and John, a senior at Tascosa High School.

Mrs. Crain, the wife of a prominent Randall County farmer, is originally from Matador, but moved to Canyon in 1932 to attend West Texas State. She taught in Childress County before marrying in 1937 and she and Crain returned to the Canyon area in 1939.

Since that time, Mrs. Crain has been actively involved in various 4-H and FFA youth programs with her two sons, Claiborne and Jerry, and in the Pleasantview Home Demonstration Club, which she currently heads.

She has been active in the First Baptist Church and is currently director of media services for the church.

She is a member of the women's division of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce and the American Association of University Women, the Daughters of the American Revolution and Amarillo and Canyon genealogy societies.

In addition to her civic work, Mrs. Crain says she enjoys home canning and tole painting and other crafts.

studying ways the four governments could purchase material and items together.

"I think we're going to have to have it (cooperation)," he said. "I'm really enthusiastic about it. I think we have a chance to get on the move and get coordinated."

Christopher said he has also worked with the county in working out a joint services agreement between city and county.

He said he backs the current county road policy as a measure which will save taxpayer dollars in the long run.

Christopher said he is also familiar with road construction and maintenance, having worked as a heavy equipment operator and plant manager for Crowe-Gulde several years ago.

He is a local real estate agent who has lived in Canyon 27 years.

the water contract with West Texas State University is up for negotiation every two years.

"We might make up some of the shortage in that area," he said.

Under the contract approved in December, the university pays a flat 38 cents per 1,000 gallons for water.

Surpluses in the water and sewer fund, which existed for years, have been used up, Metcalf said. Only the reserve fund of $200,000 in the water and sewer fund and $100,000 in the general fund remain, he said. Over the years, the surplus has been for $426,000 in capital improvements during the past ten years, and to supplement other city expenditures in other areas. Some $500,000 was used for the civic complex.

Metcalf asked for a hike in the sewer rate from the present $1.50 a month to $3. Little expenditure would be needed in the next five years in capital improvements, he said, because the waste water treatment plant was relatively new.

He presented two proposals to alter the residential trash collection system.

To keep the present system of three-man crews collecting house to house, the rates should be upped to $3.10 per month, Metcalf said. This would allow for increased labor costs and the purchase of new trucks, which will be needed soon, he said.

However, he favored a switch from individual trash cans to three-cubic yard containers for every four houses. To implement this, Metcalf proposed a $4.39 monthly sanitation charge.

The program would be spread over the next six years, he explained, with the first year's revenues being collected before implementation could begin. In the second year, one truck and 75 containers would be purchased. Eventually, 700 containers and three trucks would be needed to complete the containerization program in all residential areas except Hunsley Hills. Hunsley must retain the curbside pickup since there are no alleys in that area.

Metcalf contended that increasing the rates for the three city services would head-off a bond issue during the next five years. Further, he said, by developing a five-year plan, utility rates would not have to be raised during that time.

Present rates, with minor adjustments, have been in effect since 1958, according to Metcalf.

$5 million rather than $6 million.

Jacobs presented new enrollment projection figures which show an anticipated enrollment for the CISD which is greater than earlier growth projection figures indicated.

With the new figures, Jacobs said the district would have student enrollment of 4175 students by 1979-80. Figures used prior to the December bond election anticipated 3768 students by that year.

In other business Tuesday night, board members learned that the Amarillo school board has filed an appeal of action taken last week by Randall County School Trustees approving a metas and bounds description of the CISD.

Jacobs said Amarillo Attorney R.A. Wilson had informed him by letter that the appeal has been filed with the Texas Commissioner of Education, but Jacobs said the action is apparently a spin-off of earlier action by the Amarillo board to appeal a trustee decision allocating payments to the Amarillo board.

He said negotiations continue between the two districts on the amount of money the Amarillo district should pay CISD for the loss of 160 acres of development land, which trustees de-annexed in action in November 1974.

Board members also called a school board election for April 3. Terms expire this year for Richard Pruett and Harold Erwin. Final filing date for candidates is March 3.

The board also approved a trial use of quarter test exemptions for Canyon Junior High students who meet certain academic qualifications and who do not miss more than one day of school during any quarter or who are not tardy more than twice during any quarter.

bowling 170.

While the law calls for the board of regents to take action to establish the fees, there is no record in the board minutes of the university's regents setting the fees for the summer or fall and spring terms of 1975-76.

But, Miller said he understands the board approves the fee schedules when it approves the university's budget. A budget on file in the university library, one which reflects expenditures, does not include a statement on the equipment use fees.

The only action taken directly by a West Texas State University board of regents was taken in 1969 shortly after the board was formed when the board approved unanimously all items placed in the official school catalogue for that year. The catalogue included a schedule of fees.

All physical education fees at the university were $2 in the official May 1970 catalogue.

While the official school catalogue for this year and the schedule of classes for the fall and spring and summer terms are in conflict on just how much should be charged for the paddleball and bowling courses, even the lesser fees included in the official catalogue would apparently be in violation of the new state law.

Another state law, Article 54.003 provides that "No institution of higher education may collect from students attending the institution any tuition, fee, or charge of any kind except as permitted by law, and no student may be refused admission to or discharged from any institution for the nonpayment of any tuition, fee or charge except as permitted by law."

There is apparently no mention in the law concerning a refund should fees be collected illegally.

Dr. Myron Dees, chairman of the department of health, physical education and recreation, said he opposed the fees hike when it was proposed some time ago in paddleball and tennis.

"We originally set the fees at $2 for paddleball and $15 for bowling for the operation of the lanes, shoes and balls," he said. "The raising of the fees was not our doing. The Activities Center petitioned to raise them. We didn't particularly like the idea of raising them."

Dees said he was told by Activities Center Director Frank Castleberry that the AC was losing money in operations.

Funds raised through the charging of the fees for bowling and paddleball, he said, do not go into the departmental budget but go directly to the activities center.

The only fee Dees said the department receives directly is the golf fee, a $15 fee out of which $12.50 is paid to Hunsley Hills golf course and $2.50 is retained to provide clubs and balls for students.

Castleberry said inflation has hit the activities center budget and more money was needed for salaries and maintenance. He said the center faced a $20,000 deficit which it had to make up this year.

He said a number of alternative methods of raising the money were examined before the hike in paddleball and bowling fees was effected.

Along with the increase in fees for paddleball, he said, the center has begun furnishing balls and paddles for use.

Dees said, though, many students have complained the paddles are not good ones and they must obtain their own paddles if they want to play well.

Dees said he has 113 students enrolled in paddleball classes for the spring so far. He said he has 310 students enrolled this term for bowling courses.

The gate attendant is to check and turn away barrels with fire he said.

Even accidental fires will constitute a violation, according to Williams.

"No one from the city has contacted us and they have an accidental fire and that they're trying to put out, so I'd say they were definitely in violation," said

Williams. Penalties can range from $50 to $1,000 a day for noncompliance with regulations, but are rarely used, Williams said. He said his office would investigate the Canyon fire but that the investigation would more than likely result only in another notice of violation.

cation activities to protest the permit.

One public hearing on the permit is mandated by a new weather modification permit law and another is mandated by another new state law, Nemir said.

He said the board had taken no action yet on a request by another weather modification association in Littlefield for a four-year permit.

The Plains group had asked for a four-year permit and in December action the development board had okayed the permit pending publication in area newspapers of a notice of intent to seek a permit.

Nemir said receipt of the protest petitions nullifies the December board action.

Presidents eye economy

A number of the nation's college presidents may come together this spring to discuss athletic financing on the nation's college campuses, Dr. Lloyd L. Watkins reported Monday after returning from an NCAA convention.

Watkins said more than 80 college presidents attended the convention as an expression of their concern with economy in athletics.

"It was discussed that we have a meeting in the early summer," he said. "They did feel their concern and participation was warranted and discussed a national meeting over athletics in early summer."

Watkins said he found at the conference convention that colleges throughout the country, from the largest to the smallest, are having problems financing athletic programs.

"All of us are interested in finding ways to have good athletic programs and still live within the budgets available to us," he said. "The reports I had were that while attendance is up overall, it seems a great many institutions, including some of the biggest ones, are experiencing a deficit situation."

None of the presidents at the meeting, he said, were opposed to quality athletic programs.

"As one president of an extremely prestigious institution said 'I came here to help save intercollegiate athletics, not to oppose it,'" Watkins said.

The president of West Texas State University said he feels that reasonable economies can be made in athletic programs but should come as a result of coordinated, perhaps conference, action.

He voted for a proposal, for example, to base athletic grants in aid on economic situations of recipients, even though the proposal failed to pass NCAA approval.

Bufs take on Louisville tonight and then Bradley

If Texas Panhandle football fans had their "Super Sunday" with the Dallas Cowboys last week, West Texas State University basketball fans get the same kind of treat this week.

Eagles beat Dumas 50-33

Canyon Eagles won their first district game Tuesday, topping Dumas 50-33.

With Canyon's big center, John Johnson, still nursing a broken foot and Rick Cooper out until next week with a knee injury he suffered in the Dimmitt game, the Eagles were still below full strength, as they have been most of the season.

Hoss Ratliff led the Canyon scoring with 18 points while Mike Flynn dumped in 10.

The Eagles hit 50 percent from the floor and pulled in 32 rebounds to 21 for Dumas.

Ken Cooper collected 12 rebounds and Ratliff snagged 10. The Canyon boys, now 18-6 for the season, play their first home district game against Muleshoe here Friday with the JV game starting at 5:15. The varsity girls will play next and the varsity boys game starts at 7:30.

Son's birth is recorded in Missouri

George and Marilyn Hale announce the January 20 birth of a son, David Matthew, at Phelps County Hospital in Missouri.

Library friends seeking members

"Friends" of the Canyon City Library are currently stressing the enrollment of new members and renewals, according to Mrs. Charles Harter, chairman.

Memberships in the "Friends" are set at $1 for individuals, $5 for organizations or $100 for sustaining memberships.

Renewals and new memberships may be placed through either Dr. Irby Carruth, treasurer, or Zoe Henry, second vice president in charge of membership.

ville Cardinals tonight and pre-season Missouri Valley Conference favorite Bradley Saturday night, both in 7:30 games in the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum.

The largest crowd for Buffalo basketball in the Civic Center, a capacity attendance of near 6,000, is expected for the Louisville game. WT vaulted into the national spotlight with the overtime triumph at Louisville on Jan. 3 when the Cards were ranked 10th in the nation, and prospects of a rematch have sparked unprecedented excitement in the Bufs.

"I don't know how you could ask for two better home games, unless you are the coach," Ron Ekker, who is the Bufs coach, says. "Fans just don't get two big games in a row like that."

While most of the attention has been given to tonight's Louisville game, Ekker has devoted much of his attention to Saturday night's crucial MVC game with Bradley, the team that got Ekker's vote for the eventual Valley titlist in November.

"The big game this week is Saturday against Bradley," Ekker explains. "Louisville is a non-conference game for us, and although it would be a pres-

JV boys hit winning streak

Canyon junior varsity boys stretched a winning streak to fourteen games Tuesday with a 69-48 victory over Dumas. The jvs stand 18-3 for the season.

Allan Rozell led the CHS team with 23 points, backed up by Steve Logan with 18.

Ahead all the way, the Canyon jvs led 11 points at the end of the first quarter but let up in the second quarter, jv coach Richard Shade said. After the halftime break, the coach said his team played one of the better second halves of the season.

Last week, CHS jvs were undefeated to win a tournament at Canyon High's gym.

They downed Clovis sophomores in the first game and then topped Tulsa to go and defeat Hereford jvs in the finals.

Students spending week observing office work

Pre-employment office education classes of Canyon High School this week are getting a chance to see office work as it is rather than as textbooks and teachers say the experience will be, according to Mrs. Georgia Lee, office education instructor.

The 13 pre-employment office education classes of Mrs. Lee are this week observing in business offices throughout the city. Student involvement in learning through observation in an office is of more value to the student and more effectively reinforces what is being taught in the classroom, according to Mrs. Lee.

Classroom instruction emphasizes the importance of, and training in, telephone techniques and the various other traits and skills needed by efficient office workers.

Two bandsmen are qualified for all-state

John King and Steve Baird were named as All-State Bandsmen from Canyon High School at the area tryouts held in Lubbock last Saturday, according to J.W. King, CHS band director.

King is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. King, Jr. of Canyon and was also recognized recently for his selection to play with the honors band for the Music Educators National Conference biennial meeting at Atlantic City in March.

Baird is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Baird of Canyon. Both bandsmen will participate in the All-State Band events at San Antonio February 12-14 in conjunction with the annual convention of the Texas Music Educators Association.

Tim Martin was selected as an alternate for the All-State Band at the tryouts in Lubbock. Other CHS bandsmen involved in the tryouts included David Green, Stan Sanders and Bryan Garner.

Wives, Etc. coffee, book review Saturday

A morning coffee and book review will be held at the First Christian Church fellowship hall on Saturday, Jan. 24, for members and guests of Faculty Wives, Etc.

The January meeting begins at 10 a.m. Ruth Holladay, secondary curriculum director for the Canyon Independent School District, will be presenting the book review.

Co-chairmen for the monthly meeting are Lucy LaBrie and Enid Bates and others on the hostess committee include: Ann Asquith, Dorothy Daugherty, Marcia Durden, Margaret Guidry, Rose Kinzer, Betty Malzahn, Linda Shelly and Donna Wilson.

tigious win if we could beat them, I'm satisfied with the prestige we got when we beat them at Louisville. Now I want to win the conference."

The Bufs have now won nine straight to put their record at 12-1, the best start since the 1941-42 squad won 17 of its first 18 games. It's all been done without one star.

"I think balance has been a key to our success," Ekker adds. "We have eight very good players, and they are never all going to be flat at the same time."

"It's amazing when you can take a Bobby Anderson and throw him into a clutch situation and he plays as well as he does. The same thing about Reggie Ramey and Milt Henderson, or

Injuries hamper eagles but wins keep coming

It has been a frustrating season for Canyon High basketball coach B.B. Kendrick as he has watched injuries chip away at the chances of a team he considers potentially one of the best the school has ever had.

Yet, even with injuries, the CHS boys compiled a 17-6 record going into the first district game against Dumas Wednesday and since Christmas break had lost only one game. They opened district play Wednesday in Dumas and will play their first home game against Dumas tomorrow.

"I'll have to hand it to the kids. They've just done a superb job this year," he said. "They've hung in there and played well even with all the injuries we've had."

"I looked forward at the first of the year to probably the best year that Canyon's had," Kendrick said. "Last year we played a lot of young kids and we only lost one starter."

Then the first three weeks of school, one of my best, James Walling moved. Then one of the only three three-year lettermen I've had, Ken Cooper, hurt his knee and was out the next 10 games. Now, he's wearing a new knee brace and he'll have to have surgery after the season. He plays until his knee gives out.

"John Johnson, our only really big man and our leading scorer, had an ankle injury and then, his whoever. Yes, I'm pleased with our bench."

The starters haven't been bad about spreading the glory around, either. All five—guards Maurice Cheeks and Melvin Jones, forwards Eugene Smith and Brad Schreck, and center Dallas Smith—are averaging at least 9.3 points per game, led by Dallas Smith's 14.2 norm. All have led the team in scoring in at least one game. Cheeks, Schreck, and Dallas also have been honored as MVC players of the week.

Louisville boasts of a balanced attack also. Coach Denny Crum has four players averaging in double figures, topped by sophomore center Ricky Gallon's 16.2 mark. Gallon is also averaging 8.2 rebounds per game.

Again, the same story with Bradley. The Braves have a powerful one-two scoring punch in Mike Davis (21.6-ppg) and Roger Phegley (19.3-ppg). Three other players are into double digit averages.

Of course, this is where WT's touted defense comes in. The Bufs are ranked fifth in the nation in scoring defense with a 60.8 per game allowance, and they have held 13 foes to only a 36.9 field goal percentage, most likely the best mark in the nation.

It will be a tough week, but the toughest part still lies ahead. Next week the Bufs go on the road for Valley games at Wichita State Thursday and Drake Saturday. The WT-Drake game will be regionally telecast over NBC and KAMR-TV in Amarillo.

Bufs open track year

West Texas State University opens its indoor track season Saturday afternoon at the Lubbock Christian College Invitational, and whatever the Bufs do in their first meet will be no surprise to Coach Bob Kitchens.

"It's really difficult to estimate our chances," Kitchens said this week. "It's the first meet of the year and I really don't know how strong the competition will be."

Twelve lettermen return from the 1975 indoor team that finished fourth in the Missouri Valley Conference indoor meet, and Kitchens sees better things ahead for this 1976 edition.

"I'm optimistic about our team," he explains. "We have a lot of talent, but it's talent that needs experience."

Defending MVC champions Alvis Wright in the 60-yard dash and Joe Tionny in the half-mile figure to be two of the leaders this spring. Marvin Self, the reigning discus champion in the outdoor league championships, is the only senior on the team.

At Lubbock, the Bufs will be part of an eight-team field in the no-points meet. Also entered will be teams from Texas Tech, Abilene Christian, Wayland Baptist, New Mexico State, East Texas State, Angelo State, and host LCC.

Next week, the Bufs open their home indoor season by hosting Texas Tech in a dual meet in the WTSU Activities Center on Jan. 31.

Two hurt in accidents

A young pedestrian and a motorist were injured in two recent accidents here.

Richard Dewane Keith, 10, received extensive bruises when he was struck crossing 23rd Street at 4th Avenue by an auto driven by Keith Eugene Elders last Friday.

According to police, the boy darted into the path of the car against the red light.

Lynda Beard Byers of Amarillo received minor injuries and extensive damage was reported to vehicles when her car collided with an auto driven by Donna Jean Noggler last Friday at 5th Ave. and 17th Street.

Miss Noggler was charged with failure to yield right of way.

Cold wind marked stock show

By MARY NEAL HENRY
COLD WEATHER GOT here just in time for the Swisher County Stock Show. No moisture. Just cold hard wind. Although the temperature was near freezing, I don't believe that it ever reached that mark. It just seemed to.

Neal Odom won the Grand Champion Lamb with his heavy-weight Hampshire. Kevin Odom won Reserve Grand Champion with his medium weight Hampshire. Kyle Odom also won first in his class with his light weight Hampshire.

CARL AND DIXIE Odom came down from Maxwell, N.M., to see the nephews participate in the Livestock show. Their daughter, Martha Dale, who is now attending ACC in Abilene, met them in Tulsa. This is the first year that Martha Dale has missed participating in a Livestock show in some time and so they were on hand to back Neal, Kevin and Kyle.

The Odoms also showed a pig they named "Earl Butz." They had kept him at the ag farm in Happy and had quite a time with him. They learned that someone's old tom cat had slept with him every night because he always came flying out of the pig house at the early morning feeding. Although Earl Butz exhibited a lot of character, he only placed about fourteenth in the show.

VONNIE FIELDS, NOW a registered nurse, is a new employee of the Diagnostic Clinic in Amarillo and works with Drs. Fortner and Duke.

MAURINE ALLISON HAS handed me a calendar book which the Swisher County Historical Commission is selling for three dollars.

The book has a calendar planning guide, thumbnail sketch of Swisher County and the individual areas therein, measurements in the metric system, telephone area codes, First Aid Information, a guide to parliamentary procedure, and all kinds of special spaces. If you'd like one, tell me I will see that you have one of these books.

MR. AND MRS. O.K. McDonald were honored with a 50th wedding anniversary reception on Sunday afternoon in Keene and Loraine McDonald's home on Main Street in Happy. They were assisted by Bob and Linda McDonald (who were also celebrating their 20th anniversary.) The Keene McDonald's two daughters and families and the Bob McDonald's two sons also helped with the reception.

Oscar and Willie were married on Jan. 20, 1926 at Wylie, Tex. They have lived in Happy since that time. To this union were born two sons, Keene and Bob. The McDonalds have also been blessed with two granddaughters, two grandsons, three great-grandsons and one great-granddaughter.

Susan and Lloyd Rahlfs and their son, Lloyd, six years old, live ten miles southwest of Happy. Lloyd is engaged in farming and Susan is a math and chemistry teacher in the Kress School system.

Janie and Larry Carver reside in Hereford where Larry is associated with a feedlot. They have two sons, Darren, nine years old, and Mike, seven years old, and a girl, Laura Jane, nineteen months old.

Bob and Linda and their two sons, Ronnie, sixteen, and David, twelve, live about sixteen miles southeast of Happy and are engaged in farming.

Guests were greeted by the McDonald families and registered by the great grandsons. The registration table was covered with a white fringed cloth and decorated with a current picture of Oscar and Willie flanked by a bouquet of carnations.

Guests were served gold punch, cookies, and mints, and mixed nuts or coffee from a table covered with a white cloth trimmed in lace. A bouquet of huge gold mums, baby mums, and white daisies flanked by white tapers in gold candlesticks centered the table. Another huge basket of the same flowers stood beyond the table. There was also white tiered wedding cake topped with wedding bells and bearing a gold "50" between the tiers.

A large gold card tree (also bearing green leaves pinned on by some) was also displayed in the living room. Gifts were displayed in a bedroom. One gift that caught my eye as being most unusual was a calceolaria (mother's purse) given to their parents by the Bob McDonalds. This was a beautiful plant, full of blooms that are golden in color. They are shaped "like mother's purse" and are really beautiful.

Mrs. McDonald wore a blue knit floor-length dress and corsage of gold cymbidium orchids. Her sister, Mrs. Hardeman Cook, of Amarillo was among the guests.

Mr. McDonald had three brothers and a sister present for the afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Carl McDonald and Jeannie of Texline, Mr. and Mrs. Paul McDonald of Amarillo, Gus McDonald of Happy, and Zeyla and Jack Barnett of Amarillo. Two sisters, Ruth Tarvin and Helen Blair of Dallas, were unable to attend.

Other out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Bill Moore of Muleshoe, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bowling, Mr. and Mrs. A.B. Ponds, Mrs. Ruth Hill, Mrs. Ruby Zachary Davis, Mrs. Rae M. Walters, Mrs. Ruby Bonds, Mrs. Martha Goodman, Louis Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Conway Kuykendall, W.E. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harter, and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Harman, all of Canyon; Mrs. Othell Carver, Mrs. Marie Roberts, Mrs. Oma Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. B.L. Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frye and Allen, Mrs. Mary Jane Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Westfall, and Miss Imogene McDonald, all of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Johnny McDonald, Dale Blair, all of Texline; and Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Cole of Plainview.

HAPPY COWBELLES OPENED the year with a Membership Luncheon in Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church.

President LaNelle Todd opened the business meeting at 11:00 a.m. A "thank you" from Clay Simons was read for Happy CowBelles having provided the showmanship plaque for Happy's Livestock Show.

Mary Neal Henry reported on the essay contest held during Farm-City Week. Judy Thompson reported that $1,176 worth of Beef Gift Certificates had been sold. A beef gift certificate was donated to the first baby born in the Happy school district, David and Kathy Leavitt are the recipients of that certificate. Two Beef Gift Certificates were also donated for door prizes to be awarded at the Ft. Worth Livestock Show.

The National Convention to be held in Phoenix and the Mid-Year Texas Convention to be held in Galveston in March were both discussed. Happy CowBelles also plan to hostess the Senior Citizens Luncheon in March.

The next meeting will be a Valentine Party for our husbands at the Happy School Cafeteria on Feb. 7th at seven o'clock in the evening.

A meeting will also be held — rather a field day — at the Meat's Lab on the WTSU campus on Feb. 11th, beginning at 9 a.m. This should be most interesting. Make plans to attend.

Members and guests introduced were Terri Pearson, Judy Coombs, Betty Rahlfs, Charlene Wineblood, Durine McPherson, LaNelle Todd, Willie Butler, Myra Nell Culp, Carolyn Dietz, Willa Elliott, Doll Edmonds, Vera Eubanks, Belinda Goode, Bernice Hamblen, Eron Jennings, Mary Johnson, Mary Jane Miller, Leona McFarland, Othelia McGeehee, JoAnn Odom, Billie Pearson, Modenia Rahlfs, JoAnn Reynolds, Nell Sims, Ruth Sims, Nora Taylor, Judy Thompson, Ruby Vise, Joyce Wheat, Deloris Wilhelm, Mary Wilhelm, Vivian Woods, and hostesses, Mary Neal Henry, Omalee Lowry, Doris Foster, and Janice Davis.

Our special guest was Glen Starcher, public informant of Texas Cattle Feeders. Glen spoke about the Beef Information and Research program, its problems in and out of congress, and reasons why it was committed back to the committee.

The biggest reason is that people do not understand the bill. Reasoning was that the bill should first pass congress before money was spent to inform the public. But people in their ignorance opposed the bill because even though it may be good, people do not favor what they don't know.

Such little research is being done today on beef that we really do need a program in which we can develop truths and markets for beef. Consumers oppose the bill thinking they will pay for it, because all that they know is the value added concept.

In agriculture we've never been able to add our expenses to our product, but we are the only ones who understand that. (Makes you want to let people starve.) We do need to share our problems and better understand each other. Surely there is a solution.

HAPPY RODEO ASSOCIATION met to elect new officers for the year. These were elected: President, James Stockett, Vice-President, Copus Boyd; Secretary, James Vick; Treasurer, Bill Person; and Directors, Henry McPherson and Coombs.

HAPPY JUNIOR VARSITY Cowgirls won third place in the Grace Christian Tournament in Amarillo last weekend. They began by winning over Sam Houston and then lost to Vega's J.V. by one point in an overtime. They won the third place trophy by beating Adrian 44 to 20.

Then Monday evening in Happy the Happy Junior Varsity Cowboys beat Sudan 44 to 20, but the girls lost 20 to 29.

HAPPY COWBOYS BEAT Spade last Friday evening to earn the number rank in this district. Happy Cowgirls lost by one point.

JO HAND ESCAPED serious injury last Thursday afternoon when she was in an accident at the intersection leading to her home and the county line road.

The Hand's pickup and a station wagon driven by an Amarillo carpenter collided, but no one was seriously injured.

By DORIS McKEE
AS I SAT in front of my typewriter this week with my mind a whirl on how to start this column, the only thing that kept coming to mind was the weather. I have always heard if you can't think of anything else, then talk about the weather. I certainly would have to agree that it is very changeable.

The first thing I do every morning when I jump, or is it crawl, out of bed, is go to the window and look out. Now living here in the Texas panhandle, one hardly ever knows what kind of weather we will be having. This is one of the places that it can be 10 degrees in the morning, snow around noon and the sun come out and warm up to 50 by mid-afternoon.

Also one never knows about the wind. It can blow 80 to 90 miles an hour one day and the next day not even a stir. Oh yes, if you haven't lived thru one of our good ole blowing blizzards, then you have really missed out. Of course this winter is very young as of yet, so just sit back and try to guess what tomorrow will bring. Good Luck.

SEEMS THAT MONTY Prichett has been in the hospital recently to undergo some tests. We want to wish him the very best. Monty is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Prichett.

TALKED TO RAYLENE Qualls this week. Seems she got to come home from the hospital last week and is doing pretty well for now. Her mother-in-law, Mrs. Dane Qualls of Friona came and stayed with her and the family all week, and was a big help.

This week Raylene's grandmother, Mrs. Alma Wright of Meadow, Tex. is here for a visit and to help out any way she can. We hope Raylene continues to recover speedily and will be back to good health real soon.

MY FAMILY WAS delighted to have my brother, R.H. Weaver, stop by for a short visit Sunday night. He was on his usual run from Denver City to Amarillo.

He and his family will be moving to Amarillo about the middle of next month. He is now schooling at the new Southwestern Public Service plant, where he will be working in the very near future.

CALLED JO FULKERSON to see if she knew of any goings-on here in the park this week, but she said no news had come her way. Oh yes, she did say that son Larry would not be going back to Tucson, but had decided to stay on here. We welcome him as a permanent

Art appreciation series continues

Watercolors, pencil sketching and western landscapes by Carol Cline are on exhibit at the First National Bank of Canyon in the bank's continuing art appreciation series.

Fire department auxiliary to hold first meeting resident of Siesta.

JO, TOM AND Larry did have a weekend guest. Seems a friend of Larry's, Bart Taylor, had been home to New York to spend the holidays with his folks there and as he was returning to California he stopped over here for the weekend.

WOULD LIKE TO wish Betty and Earl Hunt a very happy anniversary, coming up on Jan. 24th. It will be their 26th annual celebration.

LAST WEDNESDAY NIGHT, Jan. 14th, Diana Hoffman opened up the doors of her home to several ladies. The occasion was a Sarah Coventry Jewelry party. The party started at 7:30 p.m. and lasted around two hours. The Sarah Coventry hostess was Clemi Blackburn of Amarillo. She showed lots of beautiful jewelry.

There was lots of visiting and plenty of refreshments. It was a very nice get together. Those attending were, Cindy Smith, Sharon Jones, Jo Fulkerson, Pearl West, Pat Reed and myself. If any of you are interested in becoming a Sarah Coventry hostess give me a call and I will tell you what you will need to do.

JANET COFFELT CALLED Monday night to tell me the freshmen (girls) basketball purple team played Dumas and beat them 36 to 29. Janet really does seem to enjoy basketball. She also said that the 7th and 8th teams both lost to Dumas.

THE BOY SCOUTS met Saturday night, Jan. 17 at 7 p.m. in the recreation building. They had five new boys join, Dennis Malone, Michael Woods, Roger Robertson, John Joseph and Robert Whirley.

They will welcome any other boys here in the park that are old enough and want to join. Just show up next Saturday night at the recreation building at 7 p.m. Charles Carter, the scout master, will be assisted by James Jones and Red Whirley. They are planning lots of activities for the troop. They now have thirteen boys registered.

Saturday night two patrol leaders were chosen. Paul Qualls will head the Silver Hawks and Robert Whirley's patrol is unnamed at this time.

The Silver Hawks include: Tod McKee, Kurt Smith, Eddie Rebeaud, Roger Robertson, Shannon Jones and Michael Woods. In the other patrol are: John Joseph, Mark and Phillip Rebeaud, Randy Jones and Dennis Malone. Marty Hoffman is Senior Patrol Leader. Future activities were discussed Saturday night.

The boys plan to spend some time to pickup papers, cans and other things that blow around and clutter up the park. It will be a clean-up day. They hope to have a father and son cake-bake auction in the very near future; also for the near future was the discussion of a Bingo night. Last but not least was the idea of a overnight camp out. Will try very hard to keep up on the happenings of our Boy Scouts and Cubs also.

THE LADIES AUXILIARY of the Siesta Volunteer Fire Department has been laid aside long enough. The first business meeting will be held on Tuesday night Jan. 27th at 7:30 p.m.

We want to encourage all you ladies here in Siesta to come take a part. It will be a very good place to get to know just who your neighbor is or who lives across the fence. We can have a lot of good times and also work for the betterment of the park and the safety of our homes and our families.

We need desperately to get our Fire Truck and our plans laid out to where they would be of help if the occasion arises. Fire is not something that one can just lay aside as, "It won't happen to me or my family." Did you know that fire kills three times more children in one year than polio ever did? It only takes about three minutes for a fire to take possession of a mobile home.

All families, regardless of whether they live in a mobile home or a house, should have some plan of action worked out with the family in the event of fire. It is very wise to have fire drills and to have a designated place to meet outside of the home. Please take precautions.

We really did work hard last year to buy the fire truck and now I believe it is past time to go to work again to see that it is in working order at all times.

This is our community. According to Webster, "a community is a body of people living in the same place, having common rights, interests and privileges." Lets build ours into something to really be proud of. If anyone has any questions I'll be most happy to try and answer them, so give me a call.

MY NEWS FOR this week was a might on the skimpy side, but if all goes well, I'll dig harder and come up with more next week. If any of you do have news, please give me a call — I'll be happy to write it up. So long for now but Keep on Reading.

OH YES, ONE last note of interest. No bundle of joy in the Burgan home yet.

THOUGHT FOR THIS week. "It's not what you say, but how you say it that causes the hurt most of the time."

See ya.
